CURRENT AFFAIRS OF THE DAY

With a marginal uptrend in the air quality of the capital on Saturday, Delhi's air quality still remains in the severe zone for the second consecutive day after the Diwali celebrations led to millions burning crackers with total disregard of the government's warnings and high pollution index warnings. The Central Pollution Control Board stated that on Saturday the capital's air quality index improved marginally however on Friday after the burning of crackers and a blatant violation of the government's ban the air quality index climbed to 462 the worst after 2016.
